

18 U.S.C. 2257 EXEMPTION

Last Updated: 1 July 2025

We operate as a purely AI-generated content platform where no real individuals are portrayed or engaged in any content creation. Every piece of content accessible in the Services and/or any of our online channels and affiliated websites to which users may be redirected is exclusively generated through artificial intelligence (AI) technology. Any visual depictions that may be sexual are not performed by real human beings but are rather created via and a product of AI technology. This method eliminates the participation of real human beings in the creation of images, videos, or any other material available on our Services.

The Federal Labeling and Record-Keeping Law is, therefore, not applicable. If you have any questions or require further clarification regarding 18 U.S.C. 2257 Exemption, please contact us at complains@kissa.ai.